Selfie Sentences | Holiday Edition

We have just had our last week of school and the sugar is still coursing through their little veins from all the partying. I am desperately trying to find something that keeps their little bodies busy while I frantically get my holiday to-do list in order. With only a few days left I just need them to be out of my way, entertained and preferably not watching tv... "But Mom, all we want is screen time! Fair enough, let's practice our selfie skills with a scavenger hunt!

How To:

- 1- Cut word cards apart on the dotted lines and tape around your house.
- 2- Cut sentences apart in strips to pull from a jar
- 3- Give the kids a camera and practice their selfie skills
- 4- Selfie Sentences must be completed in picture order to win
