

Coffee Filter Snowflakes

What you need:

- Coffee Filters
- Blue Super Washable Markers
- Water Cup
- Paintbrushes
- Drying Rack {Same used for cookies}
- Scissors

Step 1 | Painting

You or your toddler use the markers to color the filters. Then you just use water and a paintbrush to wet them. See how the water makes the colors bleed together... Magic for a toddler!

Step 2 | Drying

Put them on a cookie sheet to dry and play with wrapping paper tubes while you wait {that last part is crucial to your success}

Step 3 | Folding

Once dry you can fold them. Here's the trick: Folds go Half, Half, THIRDS otherwise it comes out funky. I learned that on Pinterest too.

Step 4 | Cutting

Then let the cutting begin! The Toddler part of this project is just the painting for now.... Sure, give them some scissors and let them go to town on a coffee filter if you need some confetti.

These are the patterns I used {nothing special} but I loved this one the best because it turned into hearts Open them up and enjoy your handy work!

Hi Friends!

Thank you so much for stopping in on my Blog Post! I'm Kandice, Mom to #MySweetandSticky Cash & Wyatt. The Sweet or Sticky boy changes daily. I am a Wedding & Party Planner in real life for my own company, Green-Eyed Girl Productions but started this Mom blog while on a 5-year maternity break. It's obviously grown to be a competitive 50% of my Mom Business life thanks to my amazing reader like you! So, I want to say THANK YOU and make sure you get the absolute most out of your experience here, which is what we like to call #MomWinning
